FOREWORD

Our children and young people are faced daily with enormous temptation to get involved in sexual activities even before they know what it is.

Equipping them EARLY with age-appropriate, culturally relevant, scientifically accurate and spiritually edifying Sex Education (Wholesome Sex Education);

- helps to empower them to take responsibility for their own health,
- prevents them from being victims to Sexual predators and
- helps them escape the consequences of premature sexual activities such as sexually transmitted infections, including HIV/AIDS, teenage pregnancy, teenage parenthood, abortion and its complications, genital cancers, and death.

The Scripture instructed that parents should TRAIN their children in the way they SHOULD go and when the children grow up, the instructions will not depart from them. Proverbs 22:6

However, it has been noted, sadly, that most parents, teachers and advocates do not really know the ‘THE WAY THESE CHILDREN SHOULD GO’ let alone training them in the same.

Some others who know what to do miss the correct approach and timing.

We have two choices; to fold our arms and watch things run its degenerating course or get involved to change the tide.

Wholesome Sex Education for Children and Adolescents Training is our response to this very important and difficult to ignore issue.

A little CONSISTENT drop can make an ocean. It is better to do something that will positively impact than do nothing at all.

It is this passion that gave birth to the mandate to start involving and collaborating with parents, teachers and advocates by training them on how to teach Wholesome Sex Education.

We have taken it upon ourselves to provide the missing link and bridge the gap; to raise sexually informed children and Adolescents who will be able to take responsibility for their sexual health and identify a sexual predator, including paedophiles, and quickly expose them before they cause havoc.

We have taught the content of this manual to thousands of people in various places and virtually.

This content is also available on our e-learning portal where you will be able to get certified after completing the course.

All these you get for FREE. This is to allow everyone full access without any form of limitation.

Promoters of sexually immoral contents make it available for FREE, we feel we cannot do less. We rather need to come together to saturate the world space, including the internet, with sexually pure contents.

This is what we have brought to the table at CASRHA Foundation.

Our goal is that No Child or Young Person who Crosses our Path will Fall Victim to Sexual Immoralities.

If we can equip them to win the battle of sex, we would have helped them to win the battle of life.

We also accept invitations to teach in religious organizations, campuses, and in stakeholders' gatherings. You can reach out to us using this link, <https://wa.me/2348150989646>, or send me an email, dr.bjseyi@casrhafoundation.org

Overview of the Wholesome Sex Education Training

You are welcome!

Main Training Objective:

At the end of this course, you would have learnt in practical terms “How to teach age-appropriate, culturally relevant, scientifically accurate and spiritually edifying sex education”.

Course Overview:

The certificate course is made up of six (6) Modules. This document contains the last (6th) module.

Module 1 is introductory as it unveils some scientific facts regarding the burden of sexually transmitted infections, adolescent pregnancy and abortion, etcetera.

Module 2 explores the content of comprehensive sex education (CSE) and brings to fore the advantage of Wholesome Sex Education over the CSE.

Module 3 is set to equip the learner with requisite elements needed to effectively and efficiently teach Wholesome Sex Education.

Module 4 deals with the right approach to age – and gender – appropriate sex education, including sex education for vulnerable children and adolescents.

Module 5 exposes the problems and challenges with puberty and teaches how you can help adolescents navigate this beautiful period of their lives without injuries; it also addresses the problem of pornography, masturbation and feelings of guilt.

Module 6 is the concluding session that summarises the content of the training with passionate appeal to the trained participants to get on the field with SMART goals despite any limitation.

Module 6: Practical Guides to Getting on the Field

This is the last (Module 6) of six modules.

At the end of this module, you should be able to:

- Set a SMART goal for yourself
- Make use of your social media pulpit
- Know the materials needed for your outreaches
- Get on the field

Practical Guides to Getting on the Field

- If you do not deliberately follow up with what you have learnt in this training, you will just discover that you are still in one place
- You must intentionally take steps to reach out to these children and young people.
- Don't be like the dead sea who is always receiving without ever giving out.
- Don't become obese with knowledge because the knowledge you don't use, or share will neither benefit you or anyone else.
- The more you share, reach out and share this message, the more vivid the vision becomes, and you will become more confident living a life of purpose

6.1. Set a SMART Goal

- Have a clear-cut goal, a SMART goal.
- 1. S – The goal should be SPECIFIC, not diffuse.
 - A diffused, vague goals will never be reached because you won't know when you reach it.
 - Be sure exactly what you intend to do, who your targets are and the exact time or duration you intend to so it
 - For example, if you say you will read your Bible every money; that's only a wish, not a goal because the Bible contains 66 books and you cannot read all of this even in one week.
 - So, to make it a SPECIFIC goal, you can say, I will read 5 verses from the book of John Gospel starting from chapter one, every morning as soon as I wake up and another 5 verses every evening before bed.
 - With this, you are not thinking what to read from the Bible whenever you wake up in the morning or when you want to retire to bed because you have guided yourself with a SPECIFIC goal.
 - You can apply this to your sex education/ sexual purity outreaches.
- 2. M – Let the goal you want to set be MEASURABLE.
 - This will help you to know when you have achieved or about to achieve it.

- You need to put things in place that will serve as indicators or signs that you have achieved the goal. This will depend on the goal you have set.
- For example, when you set a goal to reach out to 3 schools per month with sexual purity campaign, if by the middle of the month, you have only been able to reach out to one school, this will remind you that you have two schools more to go.
- It's easier to track when you have made your goals measurable.

3. A – Your goal should be ACHIEVABLE.

- Don't set a goal that will put you under unnecessary pressure.
- Don't say you will visit ten schools for sexual purity campaign every month – that is like one school every three days. You will run yourself out quickly. You will get tired and feel frustrated.
- Let it be something that you can achieve, no matter how small.
- When you achieve your desired goal, you get encouraged to do more.
- You should not compete with anyone. Competition will make you lose focus. Compete only with your 'yesterday's performance'.

- Don't try to impress anyone, you are only accountable to God and sincerely, God appreciates every little sincere effort you make.
- 4. R – Your goal should be RELEVANT to you and the people that are or will be involved.
 - If you don't find joy in the goal you have set, you will struggle while trying to achieve it.
 - Before embarking on executing your goals, try to figure out who your targets are; secondary school students? Or street children? Or your Sunday school students, etcetera.
 - This will help you to channel your goals to addressing things that are unique or specific to them and know what their interests are.
 - Penetrate them by leveraging what they like doing. Join them to do it and just show interest.
 - If it is something sinful, don't express your surprise or feel embarrassed. Meet them with a smile and a warm expression that will make them to want to hear you.
 - Don't also start by condemning their actions, rather tell them about how much God loves them and how much you care about them.
 - They are already feeling condemned and most of their misbehaviours are ways they try to use to cover up their shame and numb their minds towards their guilt.

- The moment they know you are coming to add to their guilt; they will disconnect from you and may totally avoid you.
- When what you want to say coincides with what they are interested in, there you will find relevance.

5. T – Your goal should be TIME-BOUND.

- This helps to keep you in check.
- When you don't put a time to it, you will continue to procrastinate.
- Procrastination is a thief of time. It will keep telling you to do it tomorrow. It will waste your time, disorganise your thoughts and then throw you into mental indolence.
- Put a time to your goal because tomorrow is another tomorrow, another tomorrow is another tomorrow, etcetera.
- Whatever God has laid in your mind to do; do it NOW!
- When you have set your SMART goal(s), outline the steps to achieve it.
- Discuss your goal with someone, a mentor, who can hold you accountable.
- Without accountability, you may not be able to achieve what you plan to do.
- When setting your goals and making your plans, do it prayerfully.

- If God does not help you, your goals will die in your stomach.
- So, ask God to breathe upon it and prepare the mind of all the people that will be involved in achieving your goals.
- Finally, you need self-discipline; without it, nothing works. With self-discipline, everything works.
- Self-discipline is the ability to do what you should do, when you should do it, whether you feel like doing it or not.
- If you do nothing about the plans you have set, it will remain where it is, and you will remain at one spot.
- When you try to start and you fail, don't be too hard on yourself, try again. Make the goal smarter this time and start again.
- Be patience with yourself and allow yourself time to grow with your goals.
- We are doing this today by the grace of God because we did not give up during the period of our rejections, failures and frustrations.
- We also did not start at this level, we started small, by reaching out to one student at a time, one child at a time, and gradually the influence grew.

6.2. Using Your Social Media Pulpit

- This is a narrative by Dr. John S. BALOGUN about how he got to embrace social media to reaching out to young people.
- “I first joined Facebook App in year 2009.
- In year 2010, I realized that the only thing I do on Facebook was to view people’s pictures.
- I decided to stop wasting time on Facebook and I deactivated my account.
- Sometime in year 2011, I got a revelation that I could make my Facebook profile become my social media pulpit.
- I went back on Facebook in year 2011, now with a purpose.
- Here we are today, on social media, conducting a training on sexual purity.”
- You need to be intentional – Define your purpose for being on social media.
- You have a calling. You’ve been given a mandate. Make use of your platforms.
- Intentionally send people friend request randomly to gather your congregation.
- Then, create time for your online congregation and communicate regularly with them.
- The more you communicate sex education/ sexual purity on social medium, the more the algorithm recommends it for people to engage with your content.

6.3. Materials and Methods

- You will need a public address system if you have the means. Some schools have very large population, and your voice may not reach all of them without it. If you don't have the means and your host do not make provisions for it, make do with your voice, you can be sure God will help you.
- Audio – visual aids if you have the means. Young people are usually fascinated by visuals. Clean beautiful PowerPoint slides can make your teaching very engaging and impactful. If you don't have the means, you can engage your creativity; come up with banners with your teaching points clearly written on it for display during your teaching. It will equally engage them. You can also cut cardboard papers and write boldly on it for display during your teaching.
- Reading materials like tracts, leaflets, pamphlets, books, etcetera. Some of your audience may have distractions during your teaching but when you leave a material with them, they would read it at their 'alone time' and likely get more impact from it.
- Need to visit schools to book for appointments. Some schools will give you express permission if you clearly state what you want to do or achieve with their students. Some will request letter of introduction from your organisation. You can reach out to us for this. Send an email to info@casrhafoundation.org. We will share a template letter with you. Some schools, especially public schools, may require letter from the Education Boards, if you can get this, it will really give you access to a lot of students but if you are unable to get such approval, please move on to another school. Don't ever stop on a NO. Keep moving.

- Volunteer in church to teach the children, teenagers, etcetera. Walk up to your leader in the Church, introduce what you have learnt from this training to them and let them know you will be happy to engage with the children and teenagers. Don't wait for them to engage you, volunteer.
- Reach out to children and young adults in the neighbourhood one person after another. My wife started this in our neighbourhood some years ago and it has created a positive influence on many of the children. Initially, some parents were sceptical but when they started noticing the impact, they were the ones inviting the children of their friends to join us.
- You don't need to wait until you have so much before you can start. It will cost you your time, your treasure (money) and your comfort. When Mrs. Opeyemi BALOGUN started the Hangout with Preteens and teens some years ago, she started in her living room. When the living room got congested, she divided them into two and used one of their 3 bedrooms. When the whole place got congested, they had to build a tent by the house to accommodate more people – with their salary.

- Don't hesitate or be afraid to spend for this just and eternally rewarding cause. When you make the Kingdom mandate a priority in your life, God will make your life His own priority.

6.4. Starting Despite Limitations

- Ecclesiastes 11:4 says, “He who observes the wind will not sow, and he who regards the clouds will not reap”.
- Be like the people who said in Nehemiah 2:18, “LET US ARISE & BUILD”.
- Don't wait until you are perfect before you start because you will not be perfect until you see Jesus Christ face to face.
- Limitations will always be there, but you can start despite the limitations.
